Porsche 911 2.4E - Sportomatic

€ 118.000

- Exceptional original condition
- Highly collectible
- Rare colors
- Completely matching
- Two owners since new

This 911 was delivered new in the very rare color of Aubergine over Beige leather, and optionally equipped from the factory with a Sunroof, Blaupunkt Frankfurt radio, foglights, rear collision bar and the Sportomatic gearbox. Records on file include the original invoice to mr Alan Fred McPhail from Seneca in Mexico.

Most notably, the 911 E received major cosmetic and mechanical restorative work in 2019. This includes a full detailing and dry ice cleaning of the car and undercarriage. The car went to RS Motors Porsche centre for a major service including extensive engine & gearbox work and a brake overhaul. Today the Porsche continues to beautifully display the work carried out.

All interior/exterior lights, instruments and sunroof are in proper working order. The engine performs well with consistent compression numbers; gearbox operates very smooth. The front compartment contains a spare with new Pirelli P6000 tire, matching the other mounted wheels; together with an original jack. The undercarriage is detailed and presents well.

Importantly, the 911 retains its matching-numbers engine & gearbox according to the records on file (and its Porsche Certificate of Authenticity). In addition to a dossier of records, the 911 is accompanied by an original 1972 Driver's manual and folio, Blaupunkt manual, Pflegepass, the original "Internationaler Zulassungsschein",...

As a turn-key ready example and considered one of the most desirable early 911 specifications, this wonderful 72 makes for the ideal tour/rally and event car and would fit into any growing sports car collection. It's an amazing 'olklappe" example in a rare color with mostly original paint, never restored and rust-free. This makes it a beautiful collector's item which will certainly turn heads at any occasion.
