Starting in 1963 with the original 911, Porsche has produced a line of six-cylinder rear-engine sportscars that could compete with much more powerful cars thanks to their low weight and superior handling. Introduced in 1984, the Carrera 3.2 was the last iteration of the classic 911 before the large changes of the 964. The Carrera 3.2 produced 231 horsepower at 5,900rpm, which was delivered through the desirable Getrag G50 transaxle from the 1987 production year and onwards.

True to Porsche's reputation, the Carrera 3.2 offered the unique experience of driving pleasure and performance without sacrificing comfort and usability. Due to their robust construction and strong owner's groups, these 1980s 911s are great cars to be enjoyed and driven.

This 911 3.2 Carrera

Completed at Porsche during September of 1989 as a final model-year car, this spectacular Carrera 3.2 Coupe was finished just as it appears today, painted in the classic deep Black (L700) and finished with a black interior. Fitted with desirable optional extras including sunroof; central locking; airconditioning and a limited slip differential; the new Carrera also featured the much-improved Getrag G50 5-speed manual transaxle.

Sold new in Italy the Carrera remained in its home country until 2013, when it was acquired by a German dealer, who sold it to the Belgian owner who kept it for the next 10 years. This is all proven by the documents on file. According to the paperwork - and the German dealer - the car stayed in the same family during its entire stay in Italy, although changing registration addresses two times. This indicate it being a two owner car since new!

Today less than 65,000 kilometers are recorded on the odometer and documented by the paperwork and 'Wartung' or Manual. Inside and out, the Porsche is very true to original and impeccably well-preserved with very light signs of use. The factory-applied VIN decal remain intact in the hood along with other factory decals and ID plates. The car drives incredibly well, as would be expected from a well-serviced and maintained low-mileage Porsche.

This matching example - of course - still has the factory undercarriage wax protection visible. The original interior is in beautiful condition showing very light since use. We can see the original Grundig radio with documentation. Our paint measurements show a full respray with no signs of body fillers nor is there an accident repair known or visible. The deep black paint is very glossy and depth is incredible and measurements are even throughout. Measurements even show front and rear bumpers wearing original paint! Our inspections show no visible traces of any accident or repairs.

The car just received its major service including all fluids; valve timing and new Pirelli P Zero N coded tires fitted to its original Fuchs wheels.

Offered with the original owner's manuals in pouch, Grundig information folders, Porsche Service book, space saver spare & compressor, jack and tool roll, this is really a well preserved 911 Carrera 3.2! Finding a low mileage car has become increasingly difficult and this final year is an opportunity not to be missed!

The car currently has Belgian registration.
