- Manual roof
- Long term ownership
- Body & mechanics very solid!

The Porsche 911 is one of the most legendary and reliable classics one could own. The classic 80-looks together with the powerful and solid 3.2 liter 6 cylinder boxer engine are sure to provide loads of fun miles. Enjoying the sound, looks and surroundings are even easier with a convertible like this example.

This 1985 911 is still in very good condition to this date. Body is painted in Guards red and shows great depth and clarity with just some minor marks over the years. The interior is very well maintained as well, with nice carpets and seats. The seats seem to have been replaced over the years.

Mechanics are solid and the engine starts and runs perfectly smooth, pulling nicely in every gear.

This is the perfect car to drive along some nice country roads this summer; a beautiful and trustworthy 911 convertible!
