THE 964 TURBO

The 964 Turbo's M30/69 engine displaced 3.3-liters and produced 320 horsepower at 5,750 rpm thanks to a larger intercooler that dropped the temperature of the intake air and improved volumetric efficiency. This engine used stainless-steel head gaskets for improved durability and sealing, a revised ignition system, and metallic catalyst in the exhaust system. The new and improved motor turned the Porsche Turbo 3.3 into the world's fastest-accelerating production car, bar none. Car & Driver declared the Turbo 3.3 "a rocketship" that could hit 60 miles per hour from a standstill in just over four seconds and fly through the quarter mile in the 12 seconds at 108 mph.

OUR 964 TURBO

This 3.3 Turbo Coupe offered here was delivered on the 6th of January 1993 and clad in the reserved, yet attractive color combination of Venetian Blue over Blue leather. This Belgian delivered car is one of the very last 3.3 Turbo's and according to the stamps, it has always stayed in Belgium. The accompanying factory Service Manual and options placard show that the car was equipped with a power sunroof, and full 'draped' leather seating for front and rear occupants.

The car just received a major service at an official Porsche Centre and received a full detailing and ceramic treatment at Pole-Position. This powerful and rarified 964-variant is offered with its tools, service manuals, warranty booklet & factory spare. A truly usable collector car, this era of air-cooled 911 is rapidly gaining popularity.
